

Like many, Memorial University is carefully monitoring the coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak and following the direction of our health officials.

We understand that this is an uncertain time for many, including our prospective students and applicants.

Please know that our team is working tirelessly to minimize the impact this unprecedented situation is having on our enrolment and admission efforts. We hope to provide regular updates as soon as decisions are finalized.

For accurate information about COVID-19 and the university's response, Memorial has created a webpage, www.mun.ca/covid19. Here, you'll find answers to FAQs about submitting and processing supporting documents, status of applications, communicating application decisions, and more.

Please feel free to connect with our recruitment team if you have any questions at this time. You can also visit us online at our undergraduate admissions and programs website to learn more about our admissions process and requirements, fees and student supports. You can also connect with an academic advisor for first year information, including preparing for course selection and registration.

Take care during this difficult time and stay safe.

Office of the Registrar

Memorial University of Newfoundland