EST Week

- The EST will be written Friday, June 7 to Thursday, June 13, 2024
- There will be a Professional Learning Day for teachers on Friday, June 14 and no classes for students.
- ESTs will be written in classrooms. The room assignments will be posted before the 9 and 12:30 start times.
- If a student does not have an EST, there will be other learning opportunities available for them including two study halls and a room designed to allow students to complete missed work and outstanding assignments.

- In case of student sickness during the EST week, we will require a note/email from home excusing the student sent to the subject teacher and school administration. If a student is absent during a time when there is no EST, please use the safe arrival app.
